LCSO is #ALLin for a Cure; Patrol Stroll 2021

On October 7, 2021, you can see some of law enforcement's finest in full, formal, attire for a great cause! The Leon County Sheriff's Office is hosting its annual Patrol Stroll: ALLin for a Cure. 18 members from local law enforcement agencies will take part in an epic fashion show in the middle of West Madison Street.

Breast cancer affects everyone, and this year, more than 281,000 new cases of invasive breast cancer in women and more than 2,600 new cases of invasive breast cancer in men have been diagnosed in the U.S. LCSO is doing its part to team up with the American Cancer Society to help fight breast cancer. Sheriff Walt McNeil is honored to be a part of this year's cancer awareness campaign and raise funds for this worthy cause. "Many of us in law enforcement have family, friends or colleagues impacted by this dreadful disease, so this is an opportunity for us to be "ALLin" for our community," said Sheriff McNeil.

The event is a fundraiser for the American Cancer Society's Making Strides Against Breast Cancer campaign. A VIP reception begins at 6 p.m., followed by a fashion show with an exciting finale. The fashion show is free and open to the public.

The event will conclude with a check presentation to Making Strides Against Breast Cancer.
